Fine Arts Night To Offer Seasonal Festivity And Family Enjoyment

*For immediate release: December 5, 2006
Tampa, Fla.*

The joyful sounds of young children singing will combine with dramatic performances and instrumental selections as Independent Day School-Corbett Campus continues a well-loved tradition: the school's winter Fine Arts Night. The musical celebration will take place in Corbett Hall on Friday, Dec. 8th at 7:00 p.m.

"During this time of year when we make time to be with the people who are special to us, Fine Arts Night is a wonderful occasion for us to come together as an IDS community," said music teacher Michael LeBlanc. "It's the perfect opportunity to show appreciation for the talent and enthusiasm of our students as they share their artistic gifts with the people who are important to them."

The program will feature all IDS-CC students with performances by primary and intermediate singers, the Warriors Pride Chorus, the Spirit of IDS Chorus, the beginning and advanced bands, and the middle school musical theater class. Middle school students will also serve as narrators and hosts.

"Performance with peers is a huge part of building confidence, presence and teamwork," said music teacher Tom McColley. "Fine Arts Night is the highlight of students' long hours of hard work and practice, and they receive such joy out of sharing their efforts with others."
